SENATOR PRITCHARD SPEAKS.

Some Things He Said and Some He Didn't Say.

The faithful were on hand at the court house last night to hear Senator Pritchard speak. The crowd was secured by the means of a still hunt. The local papers were not asked to announce that there would be speaking, yet, notwithstanding this the negroes found it out anyway and occupied about one-third of the court room. White republicans formed another third of the crowd and the remainder was made up of democrats—

And the official brethren haven't reported any conversions!

The speaking was arranged to take place at eight o'clock; but it was eight and a quarter before the Senator arrived. Mr. R. D. Douglas introduced him and claimed that republicans were soaring far above personalities. They were on a high plane of thought, elevated, pure and wholesome. They would discuss principles, not men; and in the next breath he denounced the democratic speakers as "unscrupulous demagogues" and "Howling Demagogues." He let 'em off light.

Then came Mr. Pritchard, the "mica man from Marshall." He took up the election two years ago and told how the republican party stood on one side with a platform that promised prosperity to every man, and the democratic party on the other with free silver vagaries—no issues at all, as the Senator announced in his speech; but he didn't say a word about getting elected to the United States Senate on false professions of allegiance to the cause of free silve ! He is in and makes fun of it now.

He said he would prove that republican rule had benefitted the farmer, mechanic, laborer and mill man. He mentioned wheat; but about corn and cotton, the chief products of North Carolina farms, he was dumb as an oyster. He said the price of calves and cows in his county had gone up; but he didn't tell how the fusion legislature had raised the taxes in a greater proportion than the increase in the market value of the animal.

Then he said Winston had sold more tobacco than ever and sold it at a higher price. Perhaps this is trne, and if so, we are glad of it. But he reserved his sublimest eloquence in proving the return of prosperity until he reached the mica mines of his own county. When it comes to talking about the great good to North Carolina growing out of the mica mines the senator is at home and pefectly at his ease. We don't know much about mica. Three-fourths of North Carolina people have heard of it but have never seen a mine and many of them don't even know what it is used for. However, the negroes present understood it all and "mica" was vociferously applauded by them

In order to get a favorable comparison on the lumber business he took the years 1895 and 1898—didn't say a word about '96 and '97 He said "we have a better grade of religion now than we had two years ago." Perhaps so: we notice the colored ministerial union of Wilmington have got enough to endorse the slander on white women by the negro editor, Manly. They wouldn't have done it two years ago.

In order to abuse the democrats for issuing bonds he dug up the Confederate states and told of the enormous sums in bonds issued by them. He eulogized President McKinley and told of the awful strain on his mind when the "howling populace" were clamoring for the recognition of Cuban independence. This was not relished much for many of his hearers were included in the "howling populace."

He said under the policy of the republicans in Congress the North Carolina boys in Cuba fought under the stars and stripes, whereas if the democratic ideas had prevailed they would have been under the Cuban flag. Perhaps the Senator didn't know the North Carolina boys were sidetracked of Jacksonville, Tybee Island, Land's End, etc., and under republican policy were not allowed to win any glory in this war.

He then struck the color line, and knowing well the power of it in this campaign, he strongly appealed to the prejudices of the negro and more ignorant class of white men by saying if the democrats get the legislature they will disfranchise them by passing a law similar to that in South Carolina. But he didn't tell them that to do this the constitution of the state would have to be changed and that the legislature has no power to do this. It can only be done by a direct vote of the people.

Then he alluded to state government and said the blind asylum cost about $90,000 under democratic rule and about $65,000 under fusion. One or two other departments he mentioned as having cost less; but he didn't tell of the comparative cost of the legislatures, or the fact that three years of fusion rule cost nearly four hundred thousand dollars more than democratic rule for a like period. It was the most vulnerable speech we have heard during the campaign and we think that a number of republicans were disappointed with the effort. It was perhaps, as good as any republican could have done.

It was in striking contrast to the great speech Bob Glenn delivered in the same place the night before.

DON'T KNOW HIS OWN NAME!

Strange Case of an Otherwise Intelligent Man.

NOW AT GUILFORD GOUNTY HOME

He Appeals for Help to Find Out Who He Is—Some Letters Written by Him.

Some ten days ago a stranger in these parts appeared at the residence of County Commissioner G. Will Armfield, in this city, and said he had been directed there by an officer up town. He wanted food, and was given dinner. Mr. Armfield examined him as best he could, and soon found he had a strange and mysterious case on his hands, for the man, though perfectly rational on most subjects, didn't know his own name!

He was closely questioned and told Mr. Armfield he found himself in Reidsville; that he was put on the train there (by whom he don't know) and sent to Winston, and from Winston he was sent back here. When he arrived at Mr. Armfield's he was nearly exhausted, from hunger it is thought, as he ate hearty when given food. He didn't know from whence he came to Reidsville. He says he has a home and family, but doesn't know where it is.

He is a man presumably about 50 years of age, small of stature, writes a good, plain legible hand and converses intelligently about everything except as to his own name, home and family all is blank. He carried with him samples of pillow-shams, tidies, etc., with hand drawings for needle work, and says he does the work himself and sells the patterns.

Mr. Armfield gave him a letter for admittance to the county home, and he is now being taken care of there. He has written to Mr. Armfield twice from the home. Below we give exact copies of his letters:

"Co. Home, Guilford county,
"Sept 30, 1898.

"Hon. G. Will Armfield,

"Sir:—Having recovered some portion of my senses and some relief from the intense pain from which I suffered (through the skilful treatment of the attending physician) I write to thank you for the kindness you showed me, and to solicit a continuance of your generous offices in my behalf.

"In the first place, it now seems to me that I have been beaten and robbed. I cannot account for the loss of certain articles of mine any other way. I have on a pair of shoes I am certain I never bought and didn't need as I bought a pair in Washington, D. C., the day after the return of the D. C. volunteers. I still have my grip key, but the grip is gone. However, I only give this conjecture to explain why I am here in this awful fix.

"Now, sir, I would like to get your influence and efforts to get me enough work, if possible, to do in my line, to carry me to my county seat, and then, of course, I can easily find my home, for as yet I cannot recollect either my name or the name of my home.

"Now, sir, could not you use your influence to induce 30 of your lady friends to let me draw designs or Pillow Shams, Tidies, Bed or Table Spreads, or any other articles? I will draw any design they may want at 15 cents per pair and put initials on anything at 5 cents per set. This amount will take me to my Co. seat. I am sure $4.50, and of course I want to work and earn it. With the return or perhaps partial return of my senses is better, I am suffering with anxiety about my family and I think I can do that am't of work in 2 days and get home the 3rd. Will you extend your kindness far enough to do this for me?

"Again thanking you for your kindness, I am respectfully,

"A man who can't think of his own name."

The other letter is as follows and the "two accompanying letters" are perhaps samples of his work on small pieces of paper which he enclosed:

"Guilford Co. Home
"Oct. 5th, '98.

"Dear Sir—If you will forward the two accompanying letters they will effect the restoring of an unfortunate to his family as early as it can be done.

"Mr. C. P. Roberts is the Editor or Business Manager of the Shelby Aurora and will promptly attend to the matter."

That is all we can gather about the peculiar case. Mr. Armfield has written to Mr. Roberts at Shelby and enclosed the original copies of the above letters.

WITH REFERENCE TO TARIFF.

Between The United States and Cuba.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Oct. 6—Special Commissioner Porter arrived today from Havana, where his investigations were with special reference to the tariff between this country and Cuba. He says the work of the peace commissioners should be expedited as much as possible, that if the present conditions prevail long in Havana there will be no prosperity or progress in business. Capital is waiting. The old Spanish tariff, which still prevails, has a war tax of 20 per cent which is being exacted.

There is a prime necessity for a movement to secure control of the custom houses in Havana. Porter's report, which is not yet completed will recommend free trade, if possible, with Cuba as soon as can be arranged with justice to both countries. He doesn't think it wise to send more soldiers there before the rainy season is over.

CAMPS ARE CLEAN.

More Testimony Before The Board of Investigation.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct. 6—General Boynton, who is before the war investigators today testified that he found the camps clean and said there was plenty of good beef. That brigade and regimental commanders are responsible for any defects. He was questioned particularly about the Eighth and Ninth New York, and denied the stories about indecent and filthy quarters.

He discredited the stories of Father Duly about the rottenness at Camp Thomas.

General Boynton said the southern soldiers, instead of complaining, expressed great surprise at the bewildering variety and the vast quantity of food.

The Situation Improves.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New Orleans, Oct. 6—The yellow fever situation continues to improve. In the past two days there has been only a slight spread and few deaths. The reports from the infected districts in this state and Mississippi show that the authorities are keeping it well in hand.

An Hour's Session.

Paris, Oct. 6—The peace commissioners held an hour's session today. Afterwards, accompanied by General Merritt, they were guests of Ambassador Porter, who drove with them to Versailles.

STATE NORMAL COLLEGE.

Began Its Seventh Year This Morning.

THE OPENING LARGER THAN EVER.

President McIver Makes a Plain Talk Describing and Expounding the Courses of Study.

For two or three days large numbers of young ladies have been arriving to be present and eater the State Normal and Industrial College at its opening this morning.

At nine o'clock this morning the opening exercises were held. The large number of students present must have been highly gratifying to the president and faculty of that splendid institution.

President McIver made a plain, practical talk to the young ladies in which he discussed the various courses taught by the State Normal and Industrial College and the incalculable value to young womanhood of a practical, industrial education. Dr. McIver evidences more and more as the years go by his eminent qualifications for the position he occupies as head of this great institution. It may be truly said that this college, its special work and mission are creatures of Dr. McIver's own massive brain.

He may well feel proud of it, for a man would have to study long and hard to invent a plan by which he could better serve his country and his God than by the education of the women of the land in industrial pursuits, teaching them self-reliance and giving them an equal start with man in the race of life.

This college has a work and a mission, peculiarly its own. Its success is marvelous; yet it is not at the expense or detriment of any other college in the land. It is noble and grand and great. Greensboro is proud of it. North Carolina is proud of it.

All hail to Dr McIver and the splendid institution he has engineered to such a high standard of usefulness!

RUN OVER BY A TRAIN.

William A. Snider Hurt on the Southern Yard.

While walking on the North Carolina railroad near Sergeant's foundry about noon today, William A. Snider was run down by a shifting engine and seriously hurt. Two wheels of a box car passed across the instep of his left foot and crushed it. He was also hit on the knee and thigh and badly bruised.

He was taken to his home at Proximity, where Dr. Broadnax, the Southern's physician, dressed his wounds. Dr. Broadnax says, though the foot is badly mashed, he thinks he can save it and that amputation will not be necessary.

Snider says there was an engine in front of him, and he was watching this when hit by a train which came off a side track on to the main line. The train was backing and the engineer could not see him. The brake beam knocked him down and the car passed over his foot.

THE WINTER CAMP.

What is Greensboro Doing to Get it Here.

Senator Pritchard has, it is said, secured the promise of a winter camp for North Carolina, and has named some of our best towns to be chosen from, among them being Greensboro.

Raleigh, Charlotte and Fayetteville are making strennous efforts to get the camp. Is Greensboro pressing her claims? It means much to the city in a financial way. What is Greensboro doing?

PROBABLY A MASSACRE.

Battle in Minnesota Between Whites and Indians.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct. 6—The war department bulletin says that reinforcements are already on the way to Gen. Bacon at Leech Lake if the gallant officer and men are not already wiped out by the Indians with whom they were fighting yesterday. We have force sufficient to drive the redskins from their strongholds.

The report of the massacre is still unconfirmed, but the dispatch boat which cruised around about the scene of battle late in the afternoon could find no trace of the soldiers.

There is general excitement at Walker, Minn., which is the nearest railroad and telegraph point to the scene of hostilities.

[The morning papers contain the first accounts of the battle referred to above, saying: A terrible battle was fought at 11 o'clock yesterday morning 30 miles from Walker, Minn., at Bog-oh-Me-Ge Skirk's Point, close to Bear Island. The reports from the scene of action are somewhat conflicting, but all agree that there has been considerable shedding of blood and some loss of life on both sides.]

LATER REPORT.

Minneapolis, Oct. 6—Arthur Pegler, a correspondent of the Journal, telegraphs from Walker this morning that eighty men under General Bacon have been annihilated by pillagers at Bear Island.

The steamer had signalled all night, but no soldiers have been seen or answer to the signals received.

FURTHER REPORTS.

St. Paul, Oct. 6—Brainerd's despatch received this morning says: A courier has arrived at Walker confirming the report that all men not in uniform were killed in the Indian massacre. General Bacon and his band are not mentioned. The result of last night's Indian council is unknown but it is confidently believed the older Indians succeeded in convincing the young braves who were thirsting for a fight that a conflict with the troops would mean annihilation.

Nothing heard from the missing. Reports of casualties: It is known that six Indians have been killed, one half breed, and one inspector. Nothing heard from the missing reporters, Beaton, of the Minneapolis Tribune, Knappen of the Minneapolis Times and Brill, of the St. Paul Pioneer Press.

It is believed the Indians have escaped to the mainland and are moving to the northeast along the Little and Big Fore rivers and that a massacre of the whites at Cass and Itasca may follow. A special train with thirty armed men and one hundred rifles with ammunition has gone to Walkers.

St. Paul, Oct. 6—The correspondent of the Globe telegraphs today that the attack of the Indians in which was ambushed and annihilated the command of General Bacon, was more cowardly than at first reported. The Indians were seen and they pretended to be friendly to the soldiers. The soldiers had unloaded and were preparing to leave when the Indians fired. The last seen of the soldiers they were crouching behind a bank defending themselves. The pilot boat was injured as I left.

Four People Drowned.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Troy, N. Y., Oct. 6—Commodore Weatherly, of the Troy Yacht Club, Stephen Mallory, bookkeeper at the state prison, Mrs. Nellie Breslin, a widow and Miss Lizzie Savage, of Waterford, were drowned today by the capsizing of their yacht which struck the ferry rope.

Injury to Cotton.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM

Augusta, Oct. 6—The indications are that in the storm the first part of the week the cotton crop sustained a loss of five million dollars. The continued wind and driving rain beat out the open cotton and completely ruined it.

Massachusetts Republicans.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Boston, Oct. 6—The republicans met to endorse Governor Wallcott who will be renominated without opposition. The St. Louis platform was endorsed.

The Raleigh Post says Senator Pritchard has been working to secure one or more of the army winter camps for North Carolina, and that "it is reported by Collector Duncan that the Senator was promised one by the authorities at Washington, but it is yet to be decided as to the point of location, Raleigh, Greensboro, Charlotte and Asheville being considered. Of course Charlotte is, of all North Carolina points, the place for this camp, as it is for everything else.—Charlotte Observer

But, dear brother, you can't have everything! There are already many things in Greensboro, and there is going to be many more. Charlotte is a dandy, a humor, and so is the Observer; but we want it understood that a fly would have a tough time roosting on Greensboro. Greensboro is going to have street cars. She already has an electric light company and we don't believe Charlotte will take it away from us, even though it "is the place for everything." And we are going to have the nicest depot, too, and you can't get it. "Keep your eyes on the chemicals!"

In introducing Senator Pritchard last night R. D. Douglas, among other things said: "Don't let these men, some of them, I am sorry to say men of great ability, who are trying to stir up race prejudice, influence you in casting your vote." The surprising part of this statement is that he acknowledged there were men of "great ability" outside the republican party, and the funny part of it is that he is sorry to have to acknowledge their ability. Well, well, there is a still sadder time coming and Mr. Douglas will have to make more humiliating acknowledgements than that.

The democrats of Chatham county nominated a most excellent ticket for the senate, legislature and county offices last Monday. John M. Foust, of Mt. Vernon Springs, is the candidate for the senate, and a most excellent, level-headed man. We are glad to see our friend Oran Hanner nominated for clerk. He is an able man, popular, upright and perhaps the best speaker on the ticket M. T. Williams for register is a good selection. Dr. R. W. Palmer, of Gulf, for coroner, a universally popular an efficient man. The others we do not know personally; but by reputation we know them to be good men.

When Senator Pritchard mentioned in his speech last night what he claimed was the cost of managing the deaf, dumb and blind asylum under democratic and fusion rule charging that the fusion rule was much cheaper it occurred to us that if the same would hold good through all departments under fusion control it would be in accordance and in keeping with other things ever since the war—negroes have always been willing to work cheaper than white folks!

VIEWED FROM RALEIGH.

Politics the Topic of Interest in the Capital City.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Raleigh, N. C., Oct. 5—The one topic of interest in Raleigh just now is politics. In fact, politics in Raleigh never comes amiss. From the groceryman on the corner, who has to keep a weather eye on the drift of things in order to stand in with the families of politicians and get his share of patronage from state institutions, up to, or down to, if you wish, the statesman stuck on his job, everybody talks politics and, what is even less desirable, thinks politics The pot is always a-boilin'. There is always plenty of politics in Raleigh, generally of the moist, sticky variety, like the fresh eel.

Raleigh is a tolerably good vantage point from which to see "how things are going." The statesman from Gum Branch and Fish Top, Chub Lake and Askewville, hies him hither to swap notes with the country-saver from Grindool and Clarissa. By taking the trouble to be present at the interchanges of this sort, day after day, you can tell with tolerable accuracy who sails with a favoring breeze.

There can be no question that at present the democrats are making large gains throughout the state. It has been so for more than a month past. They opened the campaign with a fury that both stunned and astonished the opposition, and they have never let up long enough for the populists and republicans to recover. The latter have been making a running fight of it and it is notorious that it is mighty hard work to recruit a retreating army. There is always a temptation to join in and help thump the fellow who is running for it. And that is just what the Tar Heel voter is doing.

Another thing that is telling powerfully against the fusionists is that they have literally no issue on which to fight the campaign. The result is that there is much cross-firing, and the missile of the Pop, much to his chagrin, lands in the wind of the Rep to the infinite discomfort of the latter. The fusion orators, however, latterly seem to be settling down to the "disfranchisement" song, and that will be the main dependence from this out.

The thing that has embarrassed the populist patriot most has been the exposure of his record. He has been accustomed to do all the attacking and exposing of iniquity himself because he never had a chance to make a record. He has made one now, and it gives him a pain every time the other fellow refers to it. He can't grill an octopus for the life of him, but somebody draws that record and takes all the shine off the performance. All this makes him very unhappy. His constituents are inclined to put notty questions to him also. No politician in the history of this country ever cut so sorry or so ridiculous a figure as the fusion populist is making in this campaign. He has a record that is absolutely indefensible and he has nothing to promise for the future. The practical result of all this is that the better element of populists will vote with the democrats, republicans and populists admit as much themselves, though they, of course, minimize the defection. The indications are now that the populist leaders have made practically their last trade. If the democrats win this fall the populist leaders, the disgruntled element that left the democratic party because their "qualities" were not recognized, will go to the republicans bag and baggage, and the majority of rank and file populists will return to the democratic party.

A grave mistake that the fusion leaders made early in the campaign and one that it is now too late to remedy, was in underestimating the force of the issue on which the democrats are making the fight. "Negro Rule" was practically dead when the democrats went out of power because it had not existed for a quarter of a century. But full grown negro rule such as exists in the east today is quite another matter. The negro rule we used to hear about was a memory in the minds of our fathers; the negro rule we hear about today is a big, ugly fact. In failing to distinguish between the force of the two as an issue is where the fusionists fell down. The result is that they are already whipped and whipped badly and have given up all thought of a square stand up and strike out fight. They are working very hard indeed but it is largely a still hunt. Whether the democrats will win is uncertain. Many things happen in a month. Despite the large odds against them, their chances at present are excellent. Whether they win or lose the party will come out of the campaign greatly strengthened.

AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The Buckeye the Opening Bill Next Monday Night.

The Chas. C. Vaught Comedy Co., supporting Miss Lilian Tucker, began their '98-'99 season most auspiciously at the Wilmington Opera House last night. There was a packed house and a number of people were turned away.

"The Buckeye" was the play and the interpretation by the Vaught company proved them to be one and all clever, talented and well trained playwrights. Then, too, the specialties between acts were of a high class, affording the audience an entertainment of a very high order, especially for a popular price troupe.

The play presented affords ample opportunity for the portrayal of histrionic talent and the presentation proved that the charming young star, Miss Lilian Tucker, has a very strong support.

Miss Tucker is a remarkably bright and captivating actress and never failed to pleaase the audience. Miss Dorotha Walbert is quite a talented actress, as is Miss Eunice Goodrich. Messrs. Vaught, Kirke, Gray and Thayer, every one, appeared to excellent advantage and interpreted their roles admirably.

In the matter of specialties the company is especially fortunate. The Sisters Millar with their vaudeville performances are very good indeed. Miss Eunice Goodrich presented one of the most taking specialties in her remarkable dancing feats with electric effects. Little Theodore Goodrich is a wonderfully bright and winsome child actress and was quite a favorite. The audience left the opera house very well pleased.—Wilmington Star.

At next Monday night's performance of "The Buckeye" at the Academy of Music here one lady will be admitted free with every 30-cents ticket. Seats on sale at Gardner's drugstore tomorrow morning.

Fall Opening—Concert.

Attention is called to Messrs. D. Bendheim & Son's announcement of grand fall opening of dress goods, silks, ladies coats and wraps, lace curtains, chenille and tapestry portiers, carpets, rugs, etc., which takes place on Saturday and Monday, Oct. 8th and 10th. They want all of their friends to be with them and extend a cordial welcome to you.

Evening reception will be held from 7:30 to 9:30. Prof. Elam's fine Greensboro orchestra will be in attendance and enliven the occasion with sweet music. This enterprising firm deserves the liberal patronage it is receiving. The Telegram congratulates them upon their efforts and wishes that they may be crowned with renewed and greater success than ever.

Patchen Beats Gentry.

St. Louis, Oct. 5—The star feature at the fair grounds today was the pacing race between Joe Patchen and John R. Gentry. Patchen won in two straight heats, taking the first by a nose in 2:01, and the second by a length and a quarter in 2:07¼.

Robbed the Grave.

A startling incident, of which Mr. John Oliver, of Philadeldhia, was the subject, is narrated by him as follows; "I was in a most dreadful conditien tion. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides; no appetite—gradually growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Fortunately, a friend advised trying Electric Bitters: and to my great joy and surprise, the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks and am now a well man. I know they saved my life, and robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News From Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Oct. 6, '98.

The people of High Point and vicinity are well aware of the fact that this is a great manufacturing town for its size. Of course we are all exceedingly proud of our manufactories, but there is one thing connected with them that ninety per cent. of the population of the entire township pronounce the greatest nuisance that we have ever been bothered with. That is, the necessary blowing of the early morning whistles. The newspapers of New York City a few months ago, when fighting this same nuisance, contained several reports from the leading doctors of that place and elsewhere proving that the blowing of whistles was calculated to unnerve the most robust men. As for those early whistles being blown to awaken the laboring class, that is all bosh for the average man will arise at his regular time without a whistle and as to the sleepy-head all the whistles in the county cannot awaken him, then besides, he is no good when he goes to work. We trust that our town authorities, though they are all interested in the factories will for the sake and benefit of the people of this community put a quietus on this unnecessary blowing of those six o'clock whistles.

In connection with the above complaint of the public we beg to make particular mention of one particular so-called whistle which not only blows of a morning but all during the day which is the most horrifying racket that any community was ever annoyed by, that is the so-called squedunk whistle of the Eagle Furniture Company. It is worse than five thousand base ball cranks yelling at the top of their voices when a favorite lines out a "four bagger"; it is worse than a negro excursion; it is worse than a Madison Square Garden dog show when a disturbance arises among the canine family. In fact, that there is nothing on earth that creates a racket is half as horrifying as that whistle. We trust that the proprietors of the "Eagle" will see fit to use another whistle.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin.

"When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e. Theory) says is best is to be chosen in the last place. But if you can get Dr. Inclination, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclination would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Protestant Episcopal Convention Washington, Oct. 5th to 28.

On account of the above occasion the Southern Railway Co., will sell round trip tickets to Washington, D. C., and return. On sale Oct. 3, 4 and 5th, final limit Oct. 30th. Continuous passage in both directions.
J. B. Graham, Ticket Agent.

One Minute Cough Cure surprises people by its quick cures and children may take it in large quantities without the least danger. It has won for itself the best reputation of any preparation used today for colds, croup, tickling in the throat or obstinate coughs. Howard Gardner.

Old fashions in dress may be revived, but no old-fashioned medicine can replace Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Remarkable Rescue

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine would cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefitted from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well: now does her own housework, and is as well as she ever was.—Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at C. E. Holton's drug store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, and it always prevents an attack. It is a household necessity in this county and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Though our boys have had but one "sham battle" this season they have had sufficient practice at tackling and interference to warrant some good playing. Every man will be in the right place in the "line up," and if Oak Ridge hasn't a good team our boys will walk over them tomorrow. Several Greensboro people intend going out to witness the "fight."

REMEMBER THE NIGHT POLICE.

If There Is One in Town You May Sleep in Ease.

Dear reader, have you ever thought how watchful and careful the night police is, lest some thief or robber should fall upon you in the dark and steal something of value? While the thief prowls the night watchman also prowls; not even a rock shall fall to the ground without the sound reaches the night policeman's ear; not even a match shall be struck without the light shining in his eye and being subject to investigation.

But to an example: A few nights ago as one of the faithful was going on his midnight prowl his keen eye was attracted by a light in the cellar of T. M. Pickard & Co.'s store. A robber sure, he thought. The cellar is entered from the sidewalk, the steps being covered by a double trap dor. It is also entered from the store, by steps.

Through the cracks the policeman watched the light and knew not what to do. If he left the robber or robbers might also. There might be two and he could handle but one and mind the gap at the same time. He decided to wait, and sat down on the trap door to hold it down. Soon he sighted another policeman and motioned to him with delight. He came hurriedly and together they discussed the best measures to capture their man or men. Finally they decided that the last and biggest policeman should walk to Mr. Mr. Pickard's home (about a mile) and get him while the little one guarded the hole in the sidewalk. He came and cautiously and noiselessly unlocked the front door and, with the big policeman, entered. Down into the cellar then crept every man, ready for game. When they got there, rats and mice fled in terror and on a barrel near the center of the room sat a lighted lamp which had been left there by a careless negro who, after locking the outside cellar door, went out from the inside door.

Mr. Pickard returned home regretting the loss of an hour's sleep, and and the policemen—well, you mention it to one of them if you want to fight.

Truck Farming Land Wanted.

A gentleman from a neighboring town was in Greensboro yesterday, looking for an opportunity to purchase about fifteen acres of land, located near the city, suitable for truck farming. He has been engaged in this business and has been successful. Seeing the excellent advantages Greensboro offers as a market for produce of any kind he has decided to locate here if the land can be secured. Can some one talk to him?

Our Grand Fall Opening

Takes Place

Saturday and Monday

Oct. 8th and 10th.

We want each and every one of our friends and patrons to consider themselves personally invited to attend our GRAND FALL OPENING. SATURDAY AND MONDAY, Oct 8th and 10th. We refrained from sending out special announcement cards, as we think it but fair that each and all should alike receive a cordial invitation. While our store contains the richest, the finest, the most exclusive, of all the New Fall goods, those whose taste and purse runs along more modest lines have not been forgotten. So we take this the most public, the most far-reaching way, to extend to each and all a hearty welcome to our display for the Fall and coming Winter.

Our preparations have been extraordinary, and we want you to enjoy the fruit of our labor, time and enterprise. All departments will appeal to you items of special interest, whose "OPENING" prices will make your coming worth while.

☞Evening Reception will be held Saturday and Monday, Oct. 8th and 10th, from 7.30 to 9.30. Prof. Elam's fine Greensboro Orchestra will be in attendance and render all the popular airs of the day to enliven the occasion.

☞Store will close at 6.30 P. M.; open at 7.30 sharp, when we will welcome all to the reception.
